In the 2024 survey, a random sample of half of respondents were shown those items, and half of respondents were shown the items shown here, which have been amended for clarity and accuracy. For CAMP20NEWS_h, the sample was split between "Conservative talk radio, such as Sean Hannity or Mark Levin" and "Talk radio, such as Sean Hannity or Mark Levin". No systematic significant differences emerged between the two samples' responses, and so the respondents were combined into one sample.
