Q.503 Form I

We would like to get some idea of how much consumers would be willing to pay to get a high-quality product. Keep in mind what you just told me you consider important in determining the quality of a product. Suppose you were in the market for a pair of shoes today and had the choice of two pairs -- one pair is of average quality and costs $40. The other is better able to meet your expectations with regard to quality, but costs more.

How much more than $40, if anything, would you be willing to pay to get the better quality shoes? Just your best estimate, please.

A.503

$ 226-30 [ ]Nothing
