Title: Los Angeles Times Poll: Public Attitudes Towards Critical Issues

Survey Organizations: Los Angeles Times

Field Dates: August 16, 1992

Sample: Adult residents of California's San Fernando Valley including portions of the city of Los Angeles

Sample Size: 539

Interview Modes: Telephone Interview

Weight Location: Card 1; Columns 71-75 (xx.xxx)

Usage Notes: Some questions, which use only 1 column for data, allow legitimate punches for 10 & 11.
10 will correspond to 'X' in the data file and 11 will correspond to 'Y' in the data file.

Please note that data provided by the Roper Center for Public Opinion Research may not be re-disseminated without written permission. The results of any analyses conducted on the data may, however, be published with appropriate acknowledgments and source citation.

LOS ANGELES TIMES POLL
METHODOLOGY

This Los Angeles Times poll is the 295th in a series of opinion studies designed to measure public attitudes on a number of critical issues. This particular survey focuses on the community policing in the San Fernando Valley.

The sampling frame for this survey is all telephone residences in the San Fernando Valley portions of the city of Los Angeles. Five hundred thirty-nine men and women 18 years of age and older were contacted by telephone August 16, 1992. Results are adjusted to conform with census figures on characteristics such as sex, race, age, education and household size. Telephone numbers were generated from a computer list that includes all telephone exchanges in the area. Random-digit dialing techniques were used to ensure that both listed and unlisted residences had an opportunity to be contacted.

Readers are reminded that, since survey research normally questions only a small proportion of the population, one must allow a certain margin for error. The margin of sampling error for the total sample is plus or minus 5 points. For certain subgroups, the error margin is somewhat higher.

Surveys of this kind are sometimes subject to different kinds of inaccuracies for which precise estimates cannot be calculated and which may, in some cases, be even larger than the effects associated with sampling procedures. For example, findings may be influenced by events which take place while the survey is in the field and, of course, events occurring since the time the interviews were conducted could have changed the opinions reported here. Undetected flaws in the way the sampling and interviewing procedure were carried out could have a significant effect on the findings. Changing the wording of questions and the sequence in which they are asked can produce different results. Sometimes questions are inadvertently biased or misleading and people who responded to the survey may not necessarily replicate the views of those who refused to be interviewed or who could not be found at home during the time the survey was conducted. Moreover, while every precaution has been taken to make these findings completely accurate, other errors may have resulted from the various practical difficulties associated with taking any survey of public opinion.

The Los Angeles Times Poll is directed by Susan Pinkus under the general supervision of Karen Wada, assistant managing editor. Jill Darling Richardson is the associate director, Roger Richardson is the field director, Claudia Vaughn is the data management supervisor, Ray Enslow is the publications coordinator and Patricia De La Cruz is the secretary/researcher.
