LOS ANGELES TIMES POLL
METHODOLOGY

This 303rd Los Angeles Times Poll is one of a series of surveys undertaken to sample the opinions of voters as they participate in key elections. This particular exit poll was conducted nationally, in California and New York during the national presidential election on November 3, 1992.

The sampling frame for this exit poll is the United States. Fifteen thousand three hundred twenty-one voters were interviewed on November 3, 1992, as they left 201 polling places across the nation. Also interviewed were 3,870 California voters as they exited an additional 50 polling places across the state and 2,639 New York voters as they exited an additional 30 precincts across that state. Precincts were chosen based on the pattern of turnout in past general elections. The survey was by confidential questionnaire.

The national, California and New York samples of general election voters has a margin of error of four percentage points. For some subgroups the error margin may be somewhat higher. In addition, surveys of this kind may be subject to errors not associated with sampling methods but resulting instead from the practical difficulties involved in conducting any survey of public opinion.

Further information regarding this study is available by writing to the Los Angeles Times Poll, Times Mirror Square, Los Angeles, California 90053, or by calling (213) 237-2027.

This report conforms to the standards of disclosure of the National Council on Public Polls and the American Association for Public Opinion Research.
