Title: Roper Reports Poll # 1992-05: Consumerism and Safety

Survey Organizations: The Roper Organization

Field Dates: April 4 - 11, 1992

Sample: National adult

Sample Size: 1990

Sample Notes: There are 2 forms for this study located in column 5. Form X=1 & 2; Form Y=3 & 4.

Interview Modes: Face-to-face interview

Weight Location: Columns 289-292 (xx.xx)

Usage Notes: This dataset was converted from Binary to ASCII. The variable cross-reference file (VXR) describes the column changes. In this survey the question #s are the same for both forms although the questions differ in many cases.

Please note that data provided by the Roper Center for Public Opinion Research may not be re-disseminated without written permission. The results of any analyses conducted on the data may, however, be published with appropriate acknowledgments and source citation.

I'm from The Roper Organization and we're conducting a survey about things that are happening today.

1. Considering both the availability and cost of things today, as well as your present financial circumstances, do you think now is a good time to buy things you want and need, or a good time to wait, or is it someplace in between?

Now is a good time buy	☐ 1	Someplace in between	☐ 3	22/
Now is a good time to wait	☐ 2	Don't know	☐ Y

2. There are lots of issues that people are interested in--some more than others. Would you say you are very interested in environmental issues, or moderately interested, or not that interested in them? How about (read item)--are you very interested, moderately interested, or not at all that interested? (ASK ABOUT EACH ONE)

	VERY INTER-ESTED	MODER-ATELY INTER-ESTED	NOT THAT INTER-ESTED	DON'T KNOW
a. Environmental issues	☐ 1	☐ 2	☐ 3	☐ Y	23/

7. If a government leader told the press of an upcoming event that should be kept secret until after it happened because the lives of U.S. troops could be endangered, do you believe the press would keep it secret as requested, or break the story rather than keep it secret?

Keep secret	☐ 1	47/
Break it	☐ 2
Don't know	☐ Y

8. Under the First Amendment, news reporters are guaranteed freedom of the press, one of the fundamental principles of our democracy. Some people say because of this there should be no restrictions on the kinds of things the press covers, whether people like what they do or not. Others say there are certain things like this that the press should stop doing. (HAND RESPONDENT CARD) Are there any things on that list that you personally think the press should stop doing?

a. Reporting personal information on public figures, such as the drinking habits of a Senator, or the sexual behavior of a Congressman	☐ 1	48/
b. Publishing evidence against someone accused of a crime before the trial takes place	☐ 2
c. Interviewing family members immediately after they have lost someone in an accident or in a violent crime and asking how they feel	☐ 3

62. On another subject. From time to time the government bans certain foods, or drugs or other products because tests show that rats given highly concentrated amounts of these products or of ingredients in them cause cancer in rats. Some examples of this have been saccharin, plastic bottles for soft drinks, and flame retardant materials in children's pajamas. When you hear of such tests, how believable do you find it that ordinary usage of such products by humans will cause them to develop cancer--very believable, fairly believable, not too believable, or not at all believable?

63. X Under the present law, any food or drug product shown in any kind of test to produce cancer in rats or other animals--no matter how much of it has to be used to cause the cancer--must be banned from public usage. Some people feel this is good because if there is any risk of a product causing cancer, no matter how small the risk, people should not be exposed to it. Others disagree and think the law is too strict, on the grounds that many very useful products that have a very low risk to humans are kept from the public needlessly and the benefits should be weighed against the risks before a product is banned. How do you feel--that the present law is good and should be kept as it is, or that it should be changed?

63. In general, there are two points of view about food and other product safety. Some people feel that any food or drug product shown in any kind of test to produce cancer in rats or other animals--no matter how much of it has to be used to cause the cancer--must be banned from public use. The reason is they feel that if there is any risk of a product causing cancer, people should not be exposed to it.
